The data contained in this bulletin are derived from the sixth Census of Merchandising and Services in Canada. Five of these censuses, including the present one, have been carried out decennially (every tenth year) since 1931. The remaining census, covering the year 1966, was a mid-decade undertaking designed to yield less information than a decennial census and with a consequently lighter burden on respondents.

The purpose of the 1971 decennial census was basically twofold: first, to provide users in both the private and public sectors with a wide range of information on the activities of Canadian businesses at a fixed point in time; and second, to obtain benchmark data needed to maintain an extensive series of intercensal surveys of domestic trade. To meet such needs, the census provides a measurement of sales, and receipts from services, inventories, cost of goods sold, payroll, operating expenses and other business statistics relating to the distributive and service sectors. These results are subsequently published in a series of census reports, such as the present one. (Further details of the 1971 publication programme are given on the back cover of this bulletin.)

Retail Trade: Business Locations

The tabulations presented in this bulletin refer to the operation of business locations in the retail trade sector; data aggregated to reflect the activities of businesses based on their accounting structure are provided in a later report. The most distinctive feature of the business location series is that it portrays the "real world" of retail merchandising carried out in store locations, without reference to the type of entity which conducts or sponsors the retailing activity. Consequently, this series includes information on retail stores operated by businesses in other industrial sectors, such as manufacturing (manufacturers' sales branches) or wholesaling, as well as by governments and non-profit institutions.

For census purposes, a location is generally defined as "the place in which the business activity is conducted". A retail trade location possesses the following additional characteristics: (i) it is primarily engaged in retail dealing, that is, buying commodities for resale to the general public for personal or household consumption and in providing related services such as installation and repair; (ii) the business activity must take place within a physical structure: a store, a kiosk or open-air stall, or a private dwelling; (iii) the place of business must be "relatively fixed", i.e., restricted to a geographic area narrow enough to permit easy identification by customers on a day-to-day basis; and (iv) usually it is the place at which the customer and the retailer meet

Les données contenues dans ce bulletin proviennent du sixième recensement du commerce et des services du Canada. Cinq de ces recensements, y compris celui-ci, ont eu lieu tous les dix ans depuis 1931. L'autre, qui portait sur l'année 1966, était un recensement quinquennal conçu de façon à fournir moins de renseignements que ceux effectués sur une base décennale; le fardeau de réponse des recensés s'en est donc trouvé allégé.

Le recensement décennal pour 1971 visait un double but: en premier lieu, fournir aux utilisateurs des secteurs public et privé un large éventail de renseignements sur les activités des entreprises canadiennes à un point déterminé dans le temps; et, en second lieu, obtenir les données de référence nécessaires à la poursuite d'une série complète d'enquêtes intercensitaires sur le commerce intérieur. Pour répondre à ces besoins, le recensement présente une mesure des ventes et recettes, des stocks, du prix de revient des produits vendus, de la rémunération, des frais d'exploitation et des autres statistiques des entreprises concernant les secteurs de la distribution et des services. Ces résultats sont ensuite publiés dans une série de bulletins du recensement semblables à celui-ci. (D'autres détails sur le programme de publication de 1971 figurent sur la couverture arrière de ce bulletin.)

Commerce de détail: Locaux d'affaires

Les totalisations présentées dans ce bulletin se rapportent à l'exploitation des locaux d'affaires dans le secteur du commerce de détail; un bulletin ultérieur présentera des données regroupées reflétant les activités des entreprises basées sur leur méthode de comptabilité. La série des locaux se distingue du fait qu'elle décrit l'activité véritable du commerce de détail exercée dans les magasins, sans indication du genre d'unité qui la dirige ou la parraine. Par conséquent, la série comprend des renseignements sur les magasins au détail exploités par des entreprises dans d'autres secteurs industriels tels que l'industrie manufacturière (succursales de vente des fabricants) ou le commerce de gros, ainsi que par des administrations publiques et des établissements à but non lucratif.

Pour les besoins du recensement, un local est généralement défini comme "l'endroit où l'activité commerciale a lieu". Un local de commerce de détail possède d'autres caractéristiques: (i) il s'occupe principalement de la vente au détail, c'est-à-dire, l'achat de marchandises dans le but de les revendre au public pour usage personnel ou consommation domestique ainsi que la prestation de services s'y rattachant, tels que l'installation et la réparation; (ii) l'activité commerciale doit avoir lieu à l'intérieur d'un emplacement physique: magasin, kiosque ou étalage en plein air, ou logement privé; (iii) le lieu de l'entreprise doit être "relativement fixe", c'est-à-dire limité à une région géographique assez restreinte pour permettre aux clients de l'identifier facilement au jour le jour; et (iv) habituellefor the transaction of business. Location statistics exclude all forms of direct selling which bypass the retail store, for example, book and record clubs, mail-order agencies and catalogue sales offices (except those operated by department stores), sales through vending machines, subscription sales of newspapers and periodicals, and door-to-door selling by self-employed canvassers.

As a general rule, a business location is treated in the census as an indivisible entity and is classified to a kind of business on the basis of its major activity, the type of commodity which accounts for the greatest proportion of total sales. The existence of a location doest not rely on the maintenance of separate detailed accounting records (although in most cases such records are kept); as long as it fulfills the conditions noted above, the census requirements for a location are met. There is only one exception to this rule: a leased department or concession operating within a department store location is considered to be part of that location. However, a leased department or concession which operates elsewhere, for example, a pharmacy concession in a general merchandise store, is treated as a separate and independent location.

Scope of Coverage

The scope of coverage of the retail trade census is delineated by the Standard Industrial Classification Manual (3rd edition, 1970), Catalogue 12-501, and includes all retailing activities falling within Division 8, Major Group 2. As noted above, a location is considered to be in scope when the major activity undertaken there is retailing, regardless of the classification of the entity which conducts or sponsors these activities. This series therefore embraces not only the traditional "profit-motivated" areas of trade but also the "profit-oriented" retailing activities of governments, religious institutions, social and fraternal organizations, and other "non-profit" entities. (Non-store type businesses, however, are excluded in their entirety, whatever their affiliation.)

The retail trade universe is relatively unchanged from that surveyed in the 1966 Census, with only two exceptions: "fuel oil dealers" and "fuel dealers other than oil". In earlier censuses, these kinds of business were allocated to either retail trade or wholesale trade on the basis of "class of customer" information supplied by respondents. Often this information was lacking and as a result if became increasingly difficult to determine the correct industrial sector to which such businesses should be classified. Since a number of related trade, including petroleum bulk tank dealers and propane gas distributors, were already part of the wholesale universe, ment, il s'agit de l'endroit où le client et le détaillant se rencontrent pour conclure une affaire. La statistique des locaux d'affaires exclut toutes les formes de vente directe hors des magasins au détail, par exemple, les clubs de livres ou de disques, les organismes de vente par correspondance et les bureaux de vente par catalogue (sauf ceux des grands magasins), les ventes par distributeurs automatiques, les abonnements aux journaux et périodiques et les ventes porte-à-porte par des démarcheurs travaillant à leur compte.

Régle générale, pour le recensement, un local d'affaires est une unité indivisible et est classé à un genre d'entreprise sur la base de sa principale activité, c'est-à-dire le type de marchandise qui figure pour la plus grande proportion des ventes totales. L'existence d'un local ne repose pas sur le fait qu'on y tienne une comptabilité distincte (même si c'est ce qui se produit dans la plupart des cas); du moment que le local satisfait aux conditions susmentionnées, il répond aux exigences du recensement. Il n'y a qu'une seule exception à cette règle: un rayon ou une concession loués et exploités à l'intérieur d'un grand magasin sont considérés comme faisant partie de ce local. Cependant, un rayon ou une concession loués ailleurs, par exemple, la concession d'une pharmacie dans un magasin général, sont considérés comme un local distinct et indépendant.

Champ d'observation

Le champ d'observation du recensement du commerce de détail est décrit dans la Classification des activités économiques (3e édition, 1970, nº 12-501 au catalogue) et comprend toutes les activités de la vente au détail de la division 8, groupe 2. Comme nous l'avons indiqué ci-dessus, un local est considéré comme faisant partie du champ d'enquête lorsque sa principale activité est la vente au détail, quelle que soit la classification de l'unité qui la dirige ou la parraine. Cette série comprend donc non seulement les domaines traditionnellement "lucratifs" du commerce mais également les ventes de détail "à but lucratif" des administrations publiques, institutions religieuses, organismes sociaux et philanthropiques et autres unités "à but non lucratif". (Les entreprises sans magasins, cependant, sont exclues en entier, indépendamment de leur affiliation.)

L'univers du commerce de détail demeure relativement le même que celui interrogé lors du recensement de 1966, sauf deux exceptions: "les détaillants de mazout" et "les détaillants de combustibles autres que le mazout". Dans les recensements précédents, ces genres d'entreprise étaient classés soit au commerce de détail ou de gros sur la base des renseignements "catégorie de client" fournis par les recensés. Souvent, ces renseignements manquaient et, en conséquence, il est devenu de plus en plus difficile de déterminer le secteur industriel exact auquel une telle entreprise devait être classée. Etant donné qu'un certain nombre de commerces connexes, y compris les détaillants the classification authorities in Statistics Canada decided to assign "fuel oil dealers" and "fuel dealers other than oil" to wholesale trade as well.

In addition to the above major change, it should be noted that a number of the existing "miscellaneous" classifications have been fragmented in order to reflect the appearance of new types of retailing activities since the last census. For example, health and dietary food stores were extracted from the "other food stores" classification; automotive glass stores and muffler replacement shops from "other automotive businesses", etc. Complete details of these classification changes are provided in the Introduction and General Review bulletin, Catalogue 97-701.

Changes Affecting Comparability of Data

Although every effort was made to ensure that 1971 data would be comparable with those published in previous censuses, demands for more detailed information over the intervening years have made some changes unavoidable. This is particularly the case with reference to the classfication system, which (as noted above) reflects the creation of several new kinds of business from existing classifications. As a general rule, however, the "kind of business" definitions have themselves not been altered since 1966 and even where new classifications have appeared, the results can be aggregated to match those published in the last census.

In addition, there were changes in questionnaire design, in the way in which questions were framed or instructions given to respondents. Two such changes were incorporated in the 1971 retail trade census forms. In 1966, respondents were asked to report the total number of paid employees, without distinguishing between full- and part-time workers. In this census, however, respondents were requested to convert part-time employees to their full-time equivalents, based on a standard 40-hour work week. The inventory question was also changed; the 1966 forms asked for the inventory valuation of "merchandise for sale" whereas in 1971 respondents were instructed to report the inventory valuation not only of goods purchased for resale but also of materials used in manufacturing.

Other Explanatory Notes

 Census tract maps used in 1971 Census of Merchandising and Services bulletins, and information on the structure of Canada's metropolitan areas and aux réservoirs à essence en vrac et les distributeurs de gaz propane, faisaient déjà partie de l'univers du commerce de gros, les responsables de la classification de Statistique Canada ont décidé d'attribuer "les détaillants de mazout" et "les détaillants de combustibles autres que le mazout" au commerce de gros également.

En plus de la grande modification ci-dessus, il convient de souligner qu'un certain nombre de catégories "diverses" existantes ont été divisées de façon à refléter la venue des nouveaux genres de commerce de détail depuis le dernier recensement. Par exemple, les magasins d'aliments naturels et de régime ont été extraits de la catégorie "autres magasins d'alimentations"; les magasins de vitres d'automobiles et les ateliers de remplacement de silencieux, de "autres entreprises de l'automobile", etc. On trouve des détails complets sur ces modifications dans le bulletin Introduction et revue générale (nº 97-701 au catalogue).

Modifications touchant la comparabilité des données

Même si nous nous sommes efforcés de veiller à ce que les données de 1971 soient comparables à celles publiées lors des recensements précédents, nous n'avons pu éviter les modifications en raison des demandes de renseignements plus détaillés au cours des années intercensitaires. C'est le cas du système de classification qui (comme nous l'avons indiqué ci-dessus) reflète la création de plusieurs nouveaux genres d'entreprise ajoutés aux catégories existantes. Règle générale, toutefois, les définitions du "genre d'entreprise" n'ont pas été modifiées depuis 1966 et même lorsque de nouvelles catégories ont vu le jour, il est possible de grouper les résultats pour qu'ils correspondent le plus possible à ceux qui ont été publiés au dernier recensement.

En outre, il y a eu des changements apportés à la présentation du questionnaire, à la formulation des questions ou aux directives données aux recensés. Deux modifications de ce genre ont été incorporées aux formules du recensement du commerce de détail pour 1971. En 1966, on avait demandé aux recensés d'indiquer le nombre total d'employés, sans distinction entre ceux qui travaillaient à plein temps et à temps partiel. Toutefois, au recensement de 1971, on leur a demandé de convertir les salariés à temps partiel par leurs équivalents à plain temps, en se basant sur une semaine normale de travail de 40 heures. La question sur les stocks a également été modifiée; sur les formules de 1966, on demandait la valeur des stocks de "tous les produits pour la revente", tandis qu'en 1971, les recensés devaient indiquer la valeur des stocks non seulement des produits achetés pour la revente mais également des matières utilisées dans la fabrication.
